

Surfactor Group is a medium-sized company that is successfully active in the chemical industry and has a history of over 75 years. On two production sites in Europe and one in Asia we develop and produce resin impregnated surface coatings for the wood based and automotive industry. With the decades developed expertise combined with the latest technology, we are technology and market leader for unique coating methods worldwide. With about 220 employees, the group has an annual turnover of approximately 80 million euros. Flexibility and short response times are essential strengths of our company.

For our site in Puhos, we are looking for a

QUALITY MANAGER

Your tasks:

- process owner of quality management and quality assurance of Kitee site
- optimize IMS system (ISO 9001 and 14001, OHSAS, FSC)
- prepare and manage external audits, plan and conduct regular internal audits
- plan quality of raw materials, intermediate and finished products
- work in close cooperation with our main raw material suppliers in line with improving our product performance and quality
- handle complaints/claims and track preventive and corrective actions
- contribute to process optimization and improvement initiatives
- create quality management strategy and policies

Your profile:

- degree in engineering or comparable professional education/qualification and skills
- minimum 3 to 5 years working experience preferably in an international company (manufacturing environment)
- knowledge of ISO standards and quality management systems/methods/tools
- good spoken and written English
- excellent analytical skills and systematic working approach

As a person you are proactive, self-driven personality with hands-on mentality. You are a great team player with good negotiation and communication skills. You contribute to risk assessments, investigations and lessons learned practices and co-operate effectively with customers and suppliers.

We offer you a key role where you can influence our future solutions and how we get there. You will be working together with great and talented people in a strong but flat organization where everyone's contribution makes a difference. This provides an inspiring working environment with possibilities for personal growth.

If you are interested in an attractive challenge with a future – oriented medium-sized company, send your CV and application in English incl. salary expectation by e-mail to johanna.pohjankoski@surfactor.com latest by 22nd October 2017.